

40101 Educational Programming Profile

Metropolitan Community College is a comprehensive institution of higher education offering programs of instruction in applied technology and career instruction, developmental education, general academic and academic transfer courses, adult continuing education and community service courses. The College's commitment to valuing diversity shall be reflected in all of the College's programs of study.

The development and delivery of high quality educational programs are essential activities in assuring the College's service to the area. Instructional programs offered by the College are based upon both the needs of students and of the community. Proposed instructional programs shall be reviewed and approved by the Board. The President shall periodically evaluate the program offerings of the College and recommend to the Board program modifications, terminations and additions.

(Adopted 12/17/96; Amended 11/19/13)